

What is Religious Education?

Religious Education is

Religious education is learning about the main religions of the world. We learn what different people believe and how they live their lives based on those beliefs. We learn how they express their beliefs through their practices and celebrations. We learn to think about what we believe and we begin to understand and have respect for the beliefs of others.

Someone who studies religious education is called a theologian. We will be learning about Jesus, Moses, Ruth, Simeon, Anna, Zacchaeus, Jairus, Bartimaeus, Muhammad.

I will be learning these skills in Religious Education:

- To find answers to questions about religion and uses some simple, everyday religious terms.
- To recall and retell religious stories.
- To identify how religion is expressed in different ways.
- To think about what I have learnt and how it applies to my own and others' lives.
